Tropical additions for the outdoors

Transform outdoor settings with a few additions such as a statue or water feature

WITH its third expansion in 12 months, locals are getting to know Tropical Lifestyle Superstore as the place to view and buy gazebos.

With more than 21 on display, the superstore now also has more than 25 working water features also on show.

Water features start at $199 for a concrete mermaid design and there are styles to suit most budgets.

Also available is a complete range of water-feature pumps.

Manager Matt Buchel says the store has introduced a large range of garden ornaments and statues.

"Many items cannot be found elsewhere as we do our best to source from suppliers both locally and abroad," he says.

"Come in today to view this massive range as we have more than 1500 individual pieces on display, with prices from $15 in our gift range."

Matt says Tropical Lifestyle Superstore is forever expanding its range.

"Bali huts, gazebos, bamboo fencing, water features, garden ornaments and decorative pebbles are just part of our collection," he says.

"We have plenty of parking on-site in front of Dare Gallery."

Tropical Lifestyle, at 9 Upton Street, Bundall, is open seven days, 9am to 5pm Monday to Friday and 10am to 4pm on weekends.

Benefit from a bathroom bidet

ABIDET is an unfamiliar contraption to many.

But with an extensive range of working bidets in store, The Bidet Shop is sure to have you hooked on hands-free hygiene.

Used throughout Europe for the past two centuries, bidets are slowly being introduced to the Australian market.

The battle against the use of toilet paper has proven to be popular among consumers with many opting for this latest care in posh posteriors.

The Bidet Shop's Crystal Payne says while the concept of doing business with a bidet may be baffling to some, it is actually a simple and comfortable process.

"Once a person finishes their 'business', they just press the 'bottom' or 'feminine' wash button and a gentle stream of warm water cleans them thoroughly, and a warm breeze of air will dry them off," she says.

"Depending on the model, other features may include a heated seat and a seat that will close the lid if you forget.

"This could be a toilet seat that saves marriages."

Many retirement villages and aged care facilities are opting for bidets, which rule out the use of toilet paper, lowering the risk of bacteria spreading, which can lead to infections and internal gynaecological and colon problems.

"There are a number of health and hygiene benefits from a bidet, from easing pain for arthritis sufferers to restoring livelihood, dignity and independence to people with mobility impairment all at the touch of a button," says Ms Payne.

But bidets aren't restricted to one audience; even Hollywood stars are reported to have jumped on the bidet bandwagon.

Actor Will Smith reportedly referred to his bidet as a 'shower in the middle of the day'.

"Installation is easy, however, we can arrange installation or help over the telephone," says Crystal.

"A manufacturer's warranty comes with each bidet, giving you peace of mind."

The Bidet Shop is open daily. For more information go to www.thebidetshop.com.au or call 1800 243 387.
